

Award winning Documentary WBCN and The American Revolution Comes to Pentangle

Let me start by saying thank you to our patient patrons who waited in some long lines to see the movies and purchase concessions over the past couple of weeks. Staffing screenings is a tricky business since attendance can vary, especially when the movie studio requests a two-weekend screening, as they did for Knives Out. I predicted Little Woman would do well however, I did not predict over 150 people would be at each screening. As always, we work with the studios to ensure the best possible movies and the ability to screen them in the most current timeline. I hope you'll all agree that Little Women and Knives Out were well deserving of the many award nominations they have received.

While we are on the movies, please note that 1917 (originally scheduled to screen next weekend) has been rescheduled to the end of the month to accommodate a one weekend schedule request. In it's place, we're screening Parasite, another award blockbuster.

Lastly, it was a pleasure to work the Sunday matinees while my regular team was on vacation. I love to welcome familiar faces and meet new ones. Working the movies also gives me the opportunity to introduce myself and answer questions folks have about Pentangle. So, if you have questions, find me in the office or at the movies!

On to future programming. If variety is indeed the spice of life, we've got you covered with our February line up. From two family-friendly programs, Mister Chris and Friends, and No String's Marionettes production of Snowmaiden, to a screening of the award-winning documentary WBCN and the American Revolution, and screenings of Oscar nominated films Parasite and 1917, and Star Wars: The Rise of Skywalker.

WBCN and The American Revolution, February 28th at 7:30 pm.

The American Revolution is a feature-length documentary film that chronicles progressive rock radio station WBCN-FM in Boston, during the years 1968 to 1974, through the original sights, sounds and stories, and examines the station's role in both covering and promoting the dramatic social, political and cultural changes that took place during that era. In order to produce the film, tens of thousands of individual archival items, including photographs, audio recordings, film, video and memorabilia, were shared with the producers by members of the public. A collection of these items has been established at University of Massachusetts Amherst.

There will be pre-screening reception at 6:30 pm to meet the Peabody Award winning Director, Bill Lichtenstein and Producer Robert Sennott. Tickets can be purchased in advance at pentanglearts.org/wbcn.
